

Blank, Mayer bring Mile High Modern Team to Kentwood

Peter Blank and Craig Mayer, two top-producing real estate professionals who comprise the Mile Hi Modern team specializing in real estate for modern living, have joined Kentwood City Properties in downtown Denver as broker associates. Blank and Mayer bring a unique real estate aspect to Kentwood City Properties with their sincere passion for modern architecture, which is detailed on the team's informative website at www.MileHiModern.com.

Peter Blank earned his real estate license in 2004 and is a member of the Denver Board of Realtors. An architectural specialist, Blank's professional background includes a position as marketing director for a national chocolate company and owner of Peter Blank Design. He has been featured in several HGTV Television segments and national publications, including the Wall Street Journal and the New York Times. Blank and Mayer are proud sponsors of the Denver Modernism Show and Modern Neighborhood Tours to benefit a local Denver elementary school.

Blank

Craig Mayer earned his real estate license in 2004 and is also a member of the Denver Board of Realtors where he earned the Million Dollar Roundtable Award for superior sales production in 2006 and 2007. Mayer is a Certified Landmark Real Estate Professional for historic and unique properties and is focused on modern architecture and design in his real estate business. He earned his Masters degree in Landscape Architecture and Environmental Planning from the University of California at Berkeley. Mayer and Blank are both focused on "Green Technology" and an environmentally friendly lifestyle.

Mayer

The Mile Hi Modern Team's website at www.MileHiModern.com is the country's number one Internet site for modern real estate, including Mid-Century, International Style, California Contemporary, Urban Loft, and more. Blank and Mayer specialize in architecturally unique properties representing a diverse blend of styles, including Art Deco, Prairie, Usonian, Eichler, Cliff May, and Post Modern, among others.

"We joined Kentwood City Properties because it is one of three highly respected, locally-owned offices that comprise The Kentwood Companies," said Mayer. "The firm is staffed with excellent brokers, and the energy and creativity of the Kentwood City office is a perfect match for us."

"Kentwood is ideal due to the company's outstanding support for our business and marketing model," said Blank. "The company is focused on advanced technology and boasts a leading Internet presence, and the synergy and leadership is unsurpassed in the state."

For more information on real estate services from the Mile Hi Modern Team, contact Peter Blank at 720-849-1956, email peter@milehi-modern.com. Contact Craig Mayer at 303-785-3526, email craig@milehi-modern.com.

For more information, visit The Kentwood Companies online at www.KentwoodRealEstate.com.